2. Aims of the programme

Rationale and general aims

- 1. To encourage students in their enjoyment of and commitment to literature.
- 2. To deliver a diverse curriculum which encourages the understanding and analysis of the functions of language and literature, including from periods before 1800.
- 3. To develop students' capacity to analyse, evaluate and formulate critical opinion and to provide appropriate evidence in support of it.
- 4. To encourage students to respond creatively to literature and to develop the ability to produce new knowledge and generate fresh perspectives on existing knowledge.
- 5. Develop students' abilities in group work, project management, effective communication and research.
- 6. To provide teaching that is informed by a departmental culture of research and scholarship.

- 7. To teach students how to collect, organise, and analyse data through detailed study of literary texts.
- 8. To encourage students to work in flexible and creative ways, by developing skills and habits of self-motivation and independence in study of thought.
- 9. To help students prepare and present assessed work in an articulate manner, both individually and in collaboration, and in various media.
- 10. To provide a basis for the further study of English at all levels.
- 11. To provide students with the key theoretical approaches used in the study of media and communication
- 12. To develop students' capacity to examine social and organisational aspects of media and communication
- 13. To develop students' capacity to identify and investigate the working practices and operations of a number of media agencies while at the same time examining the assumptions behind their activities.
- 14. To prepare students, through the development of an appropriate range of knowledge and skills, for careers in media and communication.

3. Student learning outcomes of the programme

Learning outcomes in terms of:

- knowledge and understanding (K)
- intellectual / cognitive / 'thinking' skills (I)
- physical skills specific to the subject (P)
- employability skills (E)

The 'K1', etc codes are used in section 7c) and module descriptors to refer to each of these learning outcomes.

Programmes of study should incorporate the generic learning outcomes set out below. With the exception of the employability skills, which should be kept intact, course proposers should enhance, embed, contextualise and/or make these learning outcomes more specific as appropriate.

On successful completion of the programme students will have demonstrated:

Statement of congruence with the relevant published subject benchmark statements (including appropriate references to the FHEQ and any PSRB, employer or legislative requirements)

All new programme submissions should be accompanied by copies of external advisory and regulatory documents relevant to the programme.

All English programmes are compliant with the most recent subject benchmark statements from the following agencies:

- QAA [Quality Assurance Agency] for English (2007);
- HEA [Higher Education Authority] English Subject Centre benchmark statements for English Language (2011)
- HEA [Higher Education Authority] Employability: Framework for Higher Education Institutions (2013)
- NAWE [National Association of Writers in Education] Creative Writing Research document (2008)
- SCONUL [Society of College, National and University Libraries] Seven Pillars of Information Literacy (2011): [http://www.sconul.ac.uk/sites/default/files/documents/researchlens.pdf]

Learning outcomes for Media are consistent with the subject benchmark statements for 'Communication, media, film and cultural studies'.

4. Learning outcomes for subsidiary awards

Level 4: Foundation and Tools

The Level 4 core provides a foundation for the further development of subject knowledge and skills at Levels 5 and 6. Students learn the distinctive characteristics of the different literary genres (drama, poetry, narrative), acquire basic understanding of language structure and a range of critical terms and issues, and develop their communication and research skills.

Level 5: Range and Exploration

The Level 5 core is organised around a chronological strand which develops subject knowledge and critical skills through the study of a literary period; students also choose a second module which may either continue the period focus or provide opportunity to develop intellectual skills through the study of creative, critical and ethical issues around a particular topic.

Level 6: Focus and Specialisation

At Level 6 the chronological strand continues with the study of Victorian Literature and opportunity is provided to pursue further, more independent, study in another period. Chronological and reflective strands meet in the opportunity to complete a 4,000-word on a topic chosen by the student and approved after consultation with an appointed member of staff. The creative writing pathway may be pursued by taking ENG6742 Writing Practices 3: Experimental Writing. There is also a professional placement option to continue the employability strand.

Media

The three years of the Media side of the programme are designed to help the students firstly make an informed choice about career paths and secondly acquire the basic knowledge and skills required to follow those paths. The first year core modules introduce them to a wide range of media skills and practices taught in an appropriately critical media, culture and communication context. As the scheme progresses, students are able to deepen their theoretical knowledge of, and develop the skills required for, their chosen career and to pursue complementary options.

Emphasis is also placed on a solid theoretical grounding in media issues. The Analysing Media and Culture and Media Culture and Society modules are designed to complement practical and professionally based modules by providing relevant background knowledge and theoretical frameworks which enhance student ability to view the media industries in their wider economic, political and cultural contexts and to reflect critically on the social and ethical aspects of media practices.

The programme provides clear professional pathways in media production; skills are developed over the three years with module choice increasing to meet student aspirations.

Employability

The relationship between theory and practice is demonstrated through opportunities for work-based learning at each level. These also provide students with the opportunity to test out career aspirations in a supportive context.

Learning, teaching and assessment

7a) Statement of the strategy for learning, teaching and assessment for the programme

Awaiting generic LTA statement to cover the LTAS - from DVP

English

(i) Towards Independent Learning

The English programmes are designed to develop a confident and competent approach to independent learning. Independent learning skills are developed through the setting of specific tasks in teaching sessions; through the structure of assessment tasks, and through the provision of specific tuition, guidance and support in the completion of those tasks. This is done in line with a stepped development of research/library skills over the 3-year course in line with SCONUL's '7 Pillars of Information Literacy' structure. At all levels, tudents will be encouraged to make full use of digital resources and to engage with new developments in digital humanities.

At Level 4 (Foundation and Tools) there is an emphasis on learning what university-level study involves – including formal qualities of scholarship and the construction and communication of a clear argument. The core module ENG4572 Language in Theory; Language in Context specifically explains and trains these skills.

At Level 5 (Range and Exploration) student essays and presentations are structured in such a way that the research skills acquired in Level 4 are both developed and also set to work against a (controlled) set of projects (i.e. once the formal structures are in place some more challenging content is provided). Students consolidate their understanding of good scholarship, practise the skills introduced at Level 4, and explore the full range of research resources available.

At Level 6 (Focus and Specialisation) students are encouraged to outline the research methods and sources they will use in order to plan and structure active research; and are required to formulate their own essay questions for some modules (eg for the ENG6702 English Research Report the core ENG6552 Literary Period: Victorian Literature module). At Level 6 the core module in semester 1 handles the transition to more independent academic research skills and the modules in semester 2 provide opportunities for students to make independent judgements about their application.

(ii) Teaching

Teaching is characterised by:

- The aim to stimulate enjoyment of reading and interest in subject scholarship
- Clear communication in speech and writing, with effective use of handouts and/or visual display materials to provide information and guidance and to support learning
- Content designed in such a way as to provide challenge, coherence and support
- Active learning activities with clear objectives, with appropriately varied tasks and organisation, playing to different learning styles and making effective use of time and resources
- Guidance for independent learning, communicated through tutorials and workshops or via VLE support.
- Innovation and renewal through sharing of good practice and input from internal and external training.
- Active engagement with the university's Learning and Teaching strategy and also with development in digital humanities.

At all Levels teaching is mainly through workshops, usually with no more than 30 students at a time, combining presentation of information by the tutor with learning activities and group discussion, followed by feedback and reflection. At Level 6 there are increased opportunities for individual tutorials.

(iii) Assessment

The programme provides a varied and diverse set of assessment methods, such as standard essays and exams, but also quizzes, reports, poster presentations, creative writing, and presentations (group and individual). This combination of modes reflects the varied focus on the specific skills or knowledge being assessed, but also has additional justifications:

- making different demands upon the students in order to encourage the development of varying learning skills;
- doing justice to different aptitudes for particular assessment methods;
- ensuring that appropriate modes of assessment can be matched against scheme and individual module objectives;
- enabling active learning opportunities for working with digital humanities.
- safeguarding the integrity and reliability of assessment for the scheme.

At Level 6 all students also take at least one module (ENG 6702 English Research Report) designed to offer maximum opportunity for independent learning and specialisation.

(iv) Review

The programme's teaching and learning is continually monitored and changes are made in the light of feedback from the following sources:

- Module mark profiles (by individual assessment and module as a whole). At programme review there is an automatic trigger for consideration of the highest- and lowest-scoring average marks for modules and assessment tasks.
- Module Evaluation Questionnaires
- Module Evaluation reports, considered at the Student-Staff Academic Committees
- External Examiner's report.

8. Entry requirements

Honours degree programmes

Applicants should normally have achieved the following prior to registration for the programme: 5 academic or vocational qualifications, of which at least 2 should be GCE 'A' levels (or equivalent at level 3) and 1 should be GCSE English Language at a minimum of grade C (or equivalent).

Some equivalent qualifications and the current typical offer conditions in terms of UCAS Tariff points are detailed in the undergraduate prospectus. For students whose first language is not English a pass in an approved test in English is needed, eg. the International English Language Testing Service (IELTS) and the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL).

Applications are welcome from those with few or no formal qualifications. Any previous relevant work experience and learning will be assessed and, where appropriate, accredited as part of the application process. Please see Leeds Trinity's Principles and Guidelines for the Accreditation of Prior Learning.

9. Progression, classification and award requirements

Details of requirements for student progression between levels and receipt of the award(s) (A certain level of attainment which must be achieved in a specific module; any modules exempted from condonement, any deviation from the standard institutional stipulations for award classification, eg. exclusion of Level 4 module marks from Foundation Degree classification)

The standard progression requirements apply.

10. Prerequisites

Details of modules which must be passed before enrolment on a module at a higher level Include the rationale which justifies imposition of the prerequisite(s) and the mark/grade required.

Successful completion of ENG4742 Writing Practices 1 is required for progression to ENG5742 Writing Practices 2. The L5 module depends upon awareness and experience of the writing skills taught and trained in the L4 module.

Successful completion of ENG 5742 Writing Practices 2 is required for progression to ENG6742 Writing Practices 3. The L6 module depends upon awareness and experience of the writing skills taught and trained in the L5 module.

11. External examining arrangements

External examining arrangements

(eg. joint with another programme – extended duties for someone already in post – or separate, single/multiple examiners; if multiple examiners, which subjects / types of module are to be allocated to each)

Results for ENG modules and HUM 5902 will be approved by the Panel of Examiners for English and covered by existing external examiner arrangements for English programmes. There will normally be one external examiner for all English programmes.

Results for MFC modules will be approved by the relevant external examiners for Media, Film and Culture programmes.

12. Additional information

Details regarding arrangements in respect of any special features of the programme/scheme, (eg. a non-standard delivery pattern, study abroad, a field course, specific work placement, opportunities for onward progression from foundation degrees)

13. Additional support needs

Arrangements made to accommodate students with additional support needs and any unavoidable restrictions on their participation in the programme/scheme

(Key aspects of the Equality Impact Assessment for the Department - see Internal Audit Form NP2G for further details)

There are no particular factors that might impose restrictions on participation in or engagement with the English side of the programme. A number of events will normally be organised by the department to support student learning on the programme (eg theatre trips, public poetry events, and the writers' festival). Students will be encouraged to participate but will not be disadvantaged, in relation to completion of their programme or of individual modules within the programme, if they are unable to participate.

Students with disabilities will be welcomed on the course and reasonable adjustments will be made wherever possible to accommodate their individual needs. Students with visual or hearing impairments might have difficulty accessing certain professional pathways such as TV and Radio production and these will be addressed as individual cases arise. Some students with physical impairments might encounter difficulties with lifting and managing camera equipment. In some cases this might require personal assistance.
